EXTENDING FREE DELIVERY.

Congress Asked to Aid the Rural Postal Service.

Washington, Nov. 29 .- An enthusiastic dea for a wide expansion of rural free delivery is made in the annual report of W. M. Johnson. First Assistant Postmaster General. He says that the extraordinary development of this system during the last twelve months under the stimulus of appropriations of $450,000 for the fiscal year 1890-1901 is conclusive as showing that hereafter it must be a permanent and expanding feature of the postal administration.

The service can now be extended as swiftly as Congress may direct or as the means The service can now se extended as switting as Congress may direct or as the means permit, until it covers all those portions of the United States now reached in whole or in part by the more primitive methods of the postal service, which have come down to us almost without change from colonial times.

This change, Mr. Johnson believes, can be effected without excessive cost to the Government. Under ordinary conditions a full route is considered to be twenty-five miles, the carrier does not pass so devised that the carrier does not pass over the same ground twice in the same day.

The present policy is to so extend rural delivery in accordance with the demands made from all parts of the country that each individual route may be dovetailed up each individual route may be dovetailed upon another route hereafter to be started.
Commencing July 1, next, it is proposed to include the cost of the postal service of Porto Rico and Hawaii in the regular appropriation instead of paying the same out of the military appropriation as at present.
An appropriation of $18,00,000 is asked for for compensation of Postmasters for the next fiscal year.

Mr. Berry is a member of the River and Harbor Committee, and has always taken great interest in that work.

"I should think that the bill would carry at least $40,000,000," continued Mr. Berry, "We must make adequate appropriations for the Mississippi and the Ohio rivers, the Great Lakes will demand looking after, the Atlantic and Pactile Coast cities have claims and," he added, "there are a few little matters in my own district to which I shall call attention. Several members of the River and Harbor Committee, including myself, have just returned from a tour of inspection of the Mississippi. That is a noble waterway and undoubtedly will be taken care of in the distribution of the work provided for by the new bill."

The ordinance was offered at the request of Street Commissioner Varrelmann in order to procure money to remove dirt and refuse from the streets to satisfy the public demand for cleaning theroughfares.

If the bill is passed, the Street Commisdoner will have a guaranty that the streets will not be choked by snow and traffic impeded, and, in a measure, he will be able to prevent recurrences of sewer overflows. The accomplishment of his purpose, however, will do away with twenty-four salaries from December 1 to April 1. Two superin-tendents, two assistant superintendents and twenty inspectors of the street repair force will be suspended for a term of four months. This constitutes half the force. One-half of the force will be idle half the time and the other half the remainder of the period. The session at which the city's finances was discussed was without particular re-sult, save that Mayor Ziegenhein was in-formed of the deplorable status of the city. The Mayor did not consult with the Ways and Means committees of the Municipal As-sembly when the general appropriation bill was under consideration last July, and he stated then that he was not familiar with the details of the serious financial difficulties

The confrence lasted from 3 o'clock until 5 o'clock, and almost the entire time was consumed in studying the deficit, Comptroller Sturgeon and Mr. Gabel explaining present debts and impending shortages. At this time nearly all municipal departments are approaching the end of their allotments. The electmosynary institutions are already short of funds for essentials. Auditor Muson has vouchers now to the amount of $20,000 for bills contracted beyond the amount of the appropriations, with no money to pay the debts.

Comptroller Sturgeon estimated in his annual report that the deficit at the end of the appropriation of the about $1,250,000. The actual existing deficit, including sums not appropriated, is $50,000.

British Consul Protested.

Panama, Republic of Colombia, Nov. 29.—
The seizure of the British steamer Taboga by the Colombian Government was due to the fact that the agent of the Pacific Steam Navigation Company, to which she belonged, refused to sell or charter the vessel for the purpose of conveying Government troops to Buena Ventura, which was besteged by the Liberals. Therefore, the Government decreed the seizure of the Steamer and proceeded to the relief of Buena Ventura with troops, ammunition and provisions. The British Consul here, C. Mallet, entered a strong protest against the seizure of the steamer, but it was of no avail. He then communicated with his Government on the subject. No rooly has yet been received from London. The Taboga, with the Government troops, etc., on board, arrived at Brena Ventura yesterday, whereupon the Liberals retired.

TO SELL NO. 6 ENGINE-HOUSE,

Ordinance Introduced in the Council to Accomplish This-Minimum Price Is $100,000.

FOLLOWS MR. BROWN'S OFFER

He Proposed to Buy the Property, the Proceeds to Be Used to Pay Him for Twelfth Street Widening.

Councilman Richards, by request, introduced in the City Council yesterday afternoon an ordinance providing for the sale of cavalrymen of Troop A, Eighth Cavalry, No. 6 Engine-house, for not less than $100,who have been testing the emergency ra- 000, in order to reimburse property owners establish the company in a new location that would more satisfactorily dominate the downtown district, and still not be an ungainly sight among the modern office-buildings and fine new business structures in the heart of the city. Progress toward a sale was so far made some years ago that an ordinance was passed by the Municipal Assembly, authorizing the disposal for not less than $75,000. This sum was not bid, and the sale was not effected. On October 23. A. D. Brown, who owns the building on the southeast corner of Washington avenue and Twelfth street, offered o purchase the engine-house at a reasonable figure to be determined by the Mayor the Comptroller and three disinterested citi-zens. No action was taken on this proposition, although the city has no funds, and cannot acquire any, to remunerate Mr. Brown for his damages for the street widoning.

Mr. Brown is in a peculiarly unpleasant Mr. Brown is in a peculiarly unpleasant position in consequence of the failure of the Municipal Assembly to appropriate the $102.602.85 damages sustained by him, for, if the appropriation be not made by next April, he will have to wait ten years to recover the loss. His building was started in 1888 after the assembly had decided to widen Twelfth street, and he anticipated the passage of an ordinance by moving his building back thirty-five feet.

The assembly, however, did not pass the ordinance. George A. Madili, W. H. Thompson, D. R. Francis, E. O. Stanard, W. H. Lee, Charles Parsons, C. H. Huttig, Robert S. Brookings, August Gehner, Nathan Frank and other citizens indorse Mr. Brown's position as being entitled to payment, They appended their signatures to his proposition to purchase the engine-house.

Copyrighted Merchandising.

It seems strange that a sale should be copyrighted, but that is exactly what Mr. C. A. Lockhart has done with his "Mill-End Sales," one of which is to be held at the Grand-Leader during the coming week. The copyright in itself would mean nothing, but the unique methods employed make these sales entirely different from others. In every factory and mill there is at times an overproduction-remnants, odd lots, seconds and mill ends accumulated. At other times, factories are run at a loss so as to keep the experienced hands employed. Under such efroumstances, Mr. Lockhart steps in, with ready cash, and backed by the largest stores of the country. The manufacturers, recognizing that no quantify can be too large, and that price and quality are the only factors, close out their entire accumulated stocks of mill ends, remnants, etc., which are sent to the large stores for "Mill-End Sales."

the largest stores of the country. The manufacturers, recognizing that no quantity can be too large, and that price and quality are the only factors, close out their entire accumulated stocks of mill ends, remnants, etc., which are sent to the large stores for "Mill-End Saies."

As a logical consequence, the bargains thus effered surpass those secured through the usual buying channels, and make the Leckhart Mill-End Saies the most successful and popular trade events in all the principal cities of the United States. This big sale at the Grand-Leader shows what wenderful values are made possible by this unique plan of Mr. Lockhart's, and will prove even more interesting than this description of the manner in which they were procured. Ever since Monday morning the Grand-Leader has beet, thronged with buyers, and at the end of the week the "Mill-End Sale" will have become the most popular event in St. Louis.
